

Maya - An art Exhibition of Kalki Subramaniam

Curatorial Notes

Kalki Subramaniam's artworks celebrates and rejoices the uniqueness in every human, every living being and protests the injustice in the name of all kinds of oppression. Her acrylic and water color paintings portray the diversity in humans, the beauty in gender diversity and sexuality, her work of art resists exploitation against LGBTQI people.

Born in India, she grew up listening to folk tales of Mahabaratha, Ramayana and other tales from villages. The Queer characters in the epics have immensely fascinated her. Presenting in this show are those beautiful heroes, heroines and the beautiful in-between divine beings from those tales from her own imagination.

Also presenting some of her other works of art including landscapes, cubist portraits and Every painting has a story to accompany. Come, read and indulge!
